Chuck Pons and Mark Rees Win the Lucky Dog Istokpoga Invitational?

I know that many of you are saying the same thing, "Mark and Chuck won?". That would be like Mahoney winning Harris, unbelievable. But it is true, Chuck Pons and Mark Rees won our Istokpoga tournament in February. They brought in a limit that weighted 16.51 pounds to take the crown as champion. A little over a half a pound separated them from second place. Chuck told me they were flippin all day. Their better fish came out of cattails and pads on Big Island. They used a combination of Culprit Incredi-craws and the new Keitech Noisy Flappers. The bite was soft but their 13 Fishing rods helped them feel the fish. Their kicker fish went 6.43 but it was only the third largest of the day.

Second belonged to John and Perry Cincota. They brought in 16 pounds even with their limit. They used a wide variety of lures all transported into this state by Walpole. Maybe not, but it sounded good. I don't know where they caught them or how but I'm glad they did so well. Chris Neatherly and Steve Gallette bring in 4 fish that go 13.47 to earn third place. The term "kitchen sink" came up when I asked them what they used. Fourth belonged to Jeff and Jered Crandon. They brought in a limit that weighted 13.18. Their kicker would go 6.78 but it wasn't enough to beat the kicker brought in by our fifth place team. Steve and Ryan Mekdeci brought in 4 fish that would go 11.69 pounds but one of those fish would top the scales at 7.33 pounds to win the big fish pot.

Fishing was much tougher than expected as only eight limits were brought to the scales out of 40 teams. This was another great showing for Bay Area with another 40 boat day. Overall 110 fish were landed and 110 fish were released alive. Good job everyone!
